DEBATE PACE SPEEDS UP ON EUROPEAN AID

HOOVER HAS SAY ON RECOVERY PROGRAM

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, March 25 (AP) — The House stepped up the pace of its debate today on the $6,205,000,000 foreign aid bill. There were signs of a fight ahead over how far this country should go in telling Western Europe which goods it must not ship to Russia.

Former President Herbert Hoover edged into the dispute from the sidelines. He endorsed the European recovery program, the backbone of the House bill, as "a major dam against Russian aggression."

But Hoover said the shipments-to-Russia provisions goes too far. Rep. Mundt (R-SD) and some of his colleagues insist it should go farther.

The whole question will be threshed out when the House Foreign Affairs committee meets Monday.

The big bill to use American money and military savvy against the advance of Communism in Europe and China reaches the amendment stage on the House floor that afternoon. So the committee will get together ahead of time to decide whether it wants to propose any changes.

Rep. Marcantonio (Al-NY) had another blast ready on grounds the bill is intended to entrench American capitalism overseas.

In a prepared address, Marcantonio squared off at:

1. American corporations which he said have "taken over a substantial part of the Italian economy."

2. Secretary of Defense Forrestal, a former investment banker.

3. Will Clayton, cotton dealer and former undersecretary of State for economic affairs, who has been mentioned as a possibility to run the economic end of the foreign aid program.

Sigler's Lobbyist Scheme Backfires

Lansing, March 25. (AP)—Governor Sigler's idea of having himself and aides register as lobbyists backfired in the legislature Wednesday.

The Senate slapped James F. Magdanz, Sigler's administrative assistant, for violating a Senate rule forbidding lobbyists on the floor during sessions or for 10 minutes before and after each session.

In the House, Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) said a similar rule would be enforced and that he felt "duty bound" to inform Sigler to that effect.

Knox said members of the Capitol club, an organization of lobbyists, had explained they were being barred from the floor while Sigler's aides were not. The governor and five assistants have registered as lobbyists.

Both House and Senate rules exempt the governor and state officials, but the House rule says, any exempt person who becomes a lobbyist loses his floor privileges.

MUD STALLS FIREMEN

Ex-Warden Claims Heyns Framed Him; Sigler Lambasted

Lansing, March 25. (AP)—Governor Sigler was lambasted today by Harry H. Jackson, former warden of the state prison of Southern Michigan, for placing Garrett Heyns on the state parole board.

Jackson has contended that Heyns "framed" him to secure his dismissal in 1945. Heyns, former state corrections director and later state prison director, was shifted to the parole board Tuesday.

The ousted ex-warden wrote Sigler a letter asserting Heyns' new appointment "definitely confirms that the political machine of the corrections department controls your office."

Declaring "The whole affair needs a grand jury," Jackson wrote Sigler "I would welcome one. I wonder if you would. Can you face the facts?"

Victor C. Anderson, Sigler's legal adviser, Jackson said, has labored to discredit an investigation of the prison system by Edmund Blaske of Battle Creek and Thomas R. McAllister of Bad Axe.

Jackson delved into the recent escape of Al Kurner, tip-off man in the slaying of Senator Warren G. Hooper, and Stanley Wrobel, a lifer.

He said that the corrections department "played the latest version of their act — 'Who Killed Hooper'?" to detract attention from itself and suggested that the department tipped off a Detroit newspaper as to where the felons could be found after their escape.

As he had done with two previous letters from Jackson, Sigler said he would ignore the former warden.

However, with newsmen Sigler defend d Heyns' newest appointment. He replied to questions as to why Heyns was given the post in the face of previous indications Heyns would be fired.

Heyns, Sigler said, was "guilty of some items of mismanagement. There has been nothing to indicate he is dishonest, or did anything which was not done over a period of years by others."

PRINCESS SHOT AS NIPPON SPY

Rifle Bullet Ends Life Of Woman Traitor

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Peiping, March 25 (AP)—A rifle shot ended today the fabulous life of Manchu Princess Yoshiko Kawashima, convicted as a spy for Japan.

She died without a whimper, prison officials said—and in comparative privacy, as she had wished.

Asked if she had any last wish, she said she would like to write a letter. She wrote it standing, in Japanese. It was to her Japanese foster father, Ninawa Kawashima.

Then the prosecutor announced that her last appeal had been rejected and she would be executed.

The order to kneel followed.

Then the executioner fired a single shot into the back of her head.

In the cell she had shared with a Chinese woman opium smoker she left her unfinished autobiography.

Born in Tokyo to Manchu Prince Su and a Mongolian princess, she was adopted by Kawashima when she was 3. She had never married. "Men only make trouble for women," she told me a few days ago.

She was only 33, but few traces of beauty remained.

Scraps of American Flag Among Wiping Cloths Cause Stir

Detroit, March 25 (AP)—The discovery of scraps of the American flag in a shipment of machinery wiping rags has caused a furore at the Murray Corp. of America plant here.

The pieces—one showing the blue field of 48 stars and another with red and white stripes—were found by workers recently.

The company immediately launched a private investigation of the source of the shipment, and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) was asked to propose a federal law prohibiting such misuse of the flag.

"The appearance of recognizable portions of our National Emblem as wiping cloths caused a great deal of righteous indignation among our employes," Lee F. Malone, Murray supervisor of protection and service, told Sen. Ferguson in a letter.

Brussels, March 25 (AP)—Prince Charles, regent of Belgium, will leave Brussels by plane April 3 for a visit to the United States, a palace communique announced today.

He is scheduled to arrive in Washington the following day and will call on President Truman on April 6. He expects to go to Knoxville, Tenn., April 9 to inspect the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Prince Regent will be accompanied by Premier Paul-Henri Spaak; Paul De Groote, minister of Economic Coordination; Col. Jean Van Nerom, head of the Prince's military services; Robert De Staercke, his secretary, and Robert Ockrent, the prime minister's chief of cabinet.

Quintuplets Born Too Soon, All Die At Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., March 25. (AP)—Mrs. Roman V. Gadlage, 31, was reported resting comfortably at a hospital here today after giving birth yesterday to quintuplets—three girls and two boys.

The three girls were stillborn. The boys lived in incubators for about 20 minutes.

Dr. A. J. Pauli, attending physician, said Mrs. Gadlage was in her fifth month of pregnancy, and that if it had been a normal pregnancy the babies probably would have lived.

The babies ranged in weight from eight and a half to 15 ounces.

The Gadlages have a daughter, Kathleen, 20 months old.

GUNFIRE MARS HOLY THURSDAY

Holy Land Worshippers Hear Rifles Bark

BY CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, March 25 (AP)—Christians knelt in prayer this Holy Thursday in Jerusalem, while around them rifles barked in the bitter strife between Arabs and Jews.

Holy Week worshippers prayed in commemoration of Christ's last supper, his betrayal and arrest. While they knelt here gunfire clattered from an Arab village on a hillside where, the Bible says, Judas Iscariot hanged himself.

The danger of death cut to a mere handful the number of Christians of Roman Catholic and Protestant faith who usually participate in daylong services.

At the spot on Mount Zion where Christ is believed by Christians to have had his last supper, Pontifical Mass was scheduled by Archbishop Msgr. Arthur Hughes, internuncio of the Catholic Church of Cairo.

After mass the churchmen are to walk to the Garden of Gethsemane for prayers at the spot where Christ is believed to have been betrayed by Judas and arrested by Roman soldiers.

NO HANGOVERS IN ATOM RUINS

Hiroshima Loss Limited To Split Second

BY DUANE HENNESSY

Tokyo, March 25 (AP)—The top scientist studying Hiroshima said today the atomic bomb has not damaged that Japanese city since the split second in which it burst.

Dr. Philip S. Owen said the long study by the atomic bomb casualty survey commission "disclosed no residual radioactivitiy." He termed false speculation that the area would be deadly for possibly 80 years.

Dr. Owen, of Washington, D. C., is executive director of the commission. The scientists are studying residents of Hiroshima and those of nearby Kure, for comparison.

He told the Associated Press it "is eight years too soon" to say whether the bomb caused heriditary changes. But he emphasized that, if there are any, they would result from the split second of the blast — not from subsequent atomic action.

Official casualty figures in the bombing, Aug. 6, 1945, are 78,150 killed. Radiation killed 21.2 percent; the others died from concussion, injuries, infections or perished in burning buildings. Another 19,699 were injured seriously and 44,979 slightly.

Dr. Owen stressed that the casualties resulted from the blast—none from anything that developed later.

Auto Crash Fatal To Physician Who Beat Two Women

San Francisco, March 25 (AP)—Dr. Bernard A. Cody died last night—without explaining why he killed his wife, slugged his mother-in-law and fatally injured himself by crashing his speeding auto.

Frank Ahern, police homicide inspector, said Cody presumably suffered a fit of nervous tension and mental instability just before the attacks in his fashionable home Monday night.

The doctor's wife, Grace, 43, died 12 hours after she was bludgeoned with a lead pipe. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary McDevitt, 80, also slugged with the pipe, may recover.

Police said Cody, 52, admitted the attacks in a conscious moment.

Thief Brings Back Store Loot and $4

Seattle, March 25 (AP) — Nick Wilson, proprietor of a surplus store, came to work yesterday to find a stack of clothing and radio equipment which were stolen Monday night, plus $4.

A note explained the money was for a window smashed by the burglar.

"They made me take it back," the note said.

Compromise Voted On Rent Controls

Washington, March 25 (AP)—A compromise one-year continuation of rent controls was voted by the House today. The Senate is expected to follow suit and send the legislation to President Truman by nightfall.

Without the legislation the present controls, affecting about 13,000,000 dwelling places and 50,000,000 persons, would end a week from today.

The compromise written by a Senate-House Conference committee after the two chambers had passed differing bills. Modifies the "local option" feature of the House version by giving a special federal court the last word on rent boosts whenever local boards and federal officials disagree.

Blue Baby, 5, Dies In Detroit; Parents Accused of Torture

Detroit, March 25 (AP)—Charges that a five-year-old crippled girl suffered neglect amounting to torture at the hands of her parents for months before her death Feb. 17 were investigated by police today.

Policewoman Mary La King signed a complaint yesterday against Joseph Kalinowski, 30, and his 28-year-old wife Dorothy, accusing them of contributing to the death of their daughter, Janice.

The child, born a blue baby, died amid filth and vermin "resulting in torture," the complaint stated. Coroner Lloyd W. Babcock blamed the death on bronchial pneumonia, heart disease and a liver condition.

The couple denied the charges, but are held for further questioning.

MORE ORDERS TO SAVE COAL ARE DRAFTED

POWER BROWNOUTS AND DIMOUTS PROPOSED

Washington, March 25 (AP)—President Truman said today he will take whatever steps are necessary—and possible under the law—to settle the coal strike.

He made that comment to a news conference when asked about the board he has appointed to determine the facts in the dispute.

The board was appointed, Mr. Truman explained, when the federal mediation and conciliation service failed to get an agreement between the coal industry and the United Mine Workers.

The president said he is following the law when asked if he plans any appeal to the coal miners to return to work.

Board Report Awaited

The fact-finding board has until April 5 to make its report. The president said he believes its members will speed their decision.

"After that?" a reporter asked.

The president said when the board reports he will take any action that is necessary under the law.

After the board reports, the government can go to the courts and ask an order halting the strike.

The government was reported drafting new coal savings orders.

Federal officials still hoped the United Mine Workers chief would call his 400,000 soft coal diggers back to work before the shortage becomes acute. But they were not counting on it.

Instead, they prepared to follow the cut in passenger and freight service on coal burning railroads with a similar order to utilities to slow down their plants.

Dimouts and brownouts to conserve power possibly would result. The same actions were adopted in previous mine strikes.

The freight order, effective next Tuesday, reduces shipments 25 per cent. The Interstate Commerce commission set up a priority system giving top transport rating to food, fuels, medical supplies and other essential items.

EDUCATORS SAY UMT IS UNWISE

College Group Favors Selective Service

Chicago, March 25. (AP) — The National Education association's higher education department announced today that universal military training "should be rejected as unnecessary and unwise."

The department's executive committee in a policy statement on national defense described UMT "as not suited to service the defense needs of our country under present conditions."

The committee said it favored selective service to secure the additional military manpower needed if Congress decides that voluntary enlistments are not sufficient.

Proposing what it termed "essential defense measures," the committee said: "The United States must maintain adequate military defense against attack or aggression that threatens our security."

The committee's statement said that: "Selective Service, if adopted, should be designed and administered in such a way as to preserve the full strength of the nation in the fields of science, health, technology, education, and other branches of leadership essential to the strength and stability of our society."

San Diego, Calif., March 25 (AP)—H. J. Janke found a $100 bill in his automobile yesterday. It had been there for more than two years.

Janke discovered the bill in the license card container. It turned out on inquiry that it had been left there by the son of a man from whom Janke bought the car two years ago. The son, F. C. Grable, said he had just forgotten about it. Janke gave it back.

Warplane Engines Shipped To Russia, Lawmakers Learn

BY ROGER D. GREENE

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Indignation mounted in Congress today over testimony that American warplane engines and other supplies have been shipped to Russia at a time of critical world tension.

Spurned by disclosures before his House investigating committee, Chairman Rizley (R-Okla) told reporters these moves are under way:

1. A demand on the Department of Commerce for a complete breakdown of all U. S. materials sent to Russia and her satellite nations.

2. An immediate check into reports that boxes and crates marked for shipment to Russia "are lying all over the New York waterfront."

3. A full-scale inquiry into the operations of Moore-McCormack Steamship Lines of New York, described by a witness yesterday as the American firm handling all shipments for Amtorg, the official Russian purchasing agency in this country.

Rizley said committee investigators are "already on the spot" to go over Moore-McCormack's records. He said they also will check reports that 60 Russian-flag ships have been loaded in New York Harbor since January 1.

Committee members gaped when Carl Anderson, assistant chief of the State Department's International Resources Division, testified yesterday that the department "has not yet worked out a policy of distinction between shipments to friendly and unfriendly countries."

Rizley commented to newsmen: "presumably the army and the navy now want to keep whatever surplus aircraft they have left until they see what turn world affairs are going to take.

"It is ridiculous shipping potential war material to Uncle Joe Stalin when we may find ourselves actually in need of it."

SLOVAK LEADER ESCAPES REDS

Anti-Communist Evades Trial In U. S. Zone

BY A. I. GOLDBERG

Prague, Czechoslovakia, March 25. (AP)—Dr. Josef Lettrich, erstwhile chairman of the Slovakian National Council, has escaped into the United States zone of Austria, the newspaper Prace said today.

Lettrich also is former head of the Slovak Democratic party. He was council chairman until the Communists took control in Czechoslovakia a month ago. In that capacity, he was the counter-part for semi-autonomous Slovakia of President Eduard Benes.

He disguised himself as a chauffeur and fled with a suburb of Bratislava to Vienna in a big truck operated by a Dutch firm, the paper said. Bratislava is the capital of Slovakia.

Both Lettrich and Dr. Fedor Hodza, general secretary of his party and son of a former Czechoslovak premier, have been singled out for coming trials on treason charges. Hodza's whereabouts have not been reported lately. Both long have been under attack from Communists, who say they have had dealings with unnamed foreign powers.

Truce In Palestine Sought By Truman

Washington, March 25. (AP)—President Truman proposed today that the United Nations call Arab and Jewish leaders into a truce parley to halt bloodshed in Palestine.

He said Warren Austin, American delegate to the U. N., will put the proposal before the U. N. security council.

The president told a news conference the United States reversed its original stand for partition of Palestine because partition could not be enforced without American troops.

Austin, American delegate to the U. N., announced the reversal last Friday. He proposed a temporary United Nations trusteeship over Palestine.

Food Supplies Sent To Mackinac Island Marooned With Ice

Mackinac Island, Mich., March 25 (AP)—Children in this isolated community of 500 can look forward to drinking milk again tonight. And there will be bread, fresh vegetables and fruit for everyone too.

The state highway department's icebreaker ferry St. Marie was due to leave St. Ignace with the supplies at noon today.

For a week this Island off the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula has been out of vehicular contact with the mainland. During the winter vehicles drove across the ice.

But the ice is too uncertain now. Yet it's thick enough to prevent the regular island boats from crossing.

Lansing Pair Faces Term For Gambling

Lansing, March 25 (AP)—George H. Sweazey, 40, and his wife, Vivian, 37, awaited sentence today after being found guilty by a circuit court jury of maintaining and operating a gambling establishment.

TWO ROYAL OAK BANDITS HUNTED

Loan Company Held Up; Loot Over $2,000

Detroit, March 25 (AP)—A police hunt was on today for two bandits who held up a loan company in suburban Royal Oak at gunpoint yesterday and fled with more than $2,000.

The robbers, one brandishing a small revolver, entered the office of the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Co. A little before 1 p. m. and forced Manager E. A. Laidlaw into a back room.

There they compelled the manager and E. A. Meyer, who conducts a real estate business in the same building, to lie on the floor. They tied up the pair, Laidlaw reported to police, and a few minutes later gave the same treatment to Hugh Elliott, a customer who entered the loan office.

The three men, helpless until Meyer managed to get a knife out of his pocket to cut the cords, did not see the bandits escape, they told officers. Laidlaw said $2,000 to $2,500 was missing.

The same loan office was scene of a $1,200 holdup last March when Laidlaw and two customers were bound while the bandits escaped.

Royal Oak city police joined with Oakland county authorities and FBI agents in a search for the robbers.

Japanese In Tokyo Boost Mac Arthur For U. S. President

Tokyo, March 25 (AP)—General MacArthur's self-appointed Japanese campaign manager is working to collect 50,000,000 Japanese signatures on a petition supporting the Allied commander for president.

"It will be easy," said Toshiyo Oda, Tokyo contractor. His office building blossomed with "MacArthur for President" signs shortly after the General's statement of availability.

Why are the Japanese so interested? Oda explained:

"The presidency of the United States is now charged with important missions to save the world crisis and the mankind—in short the presidency is now a world task. We are convinced that General MacArthur is the best qualified statesman to save the mankind, so his missions are holy and no easy task."

NEW DEFENSE PLAN MAPPED FOR CONGRESS

MILITARY MACHINE TO MATCH RUSSIA SET AS GOAL

Washington, March 25 (AP) — The nation's top military leaders asked Congress today for an immediate expansion of the armed services and the drafting of men 19 to 25 years of age.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal grimly outlined the recent turn of world events in urging steps to make United States military might match that of Communist Russia.

Forrestal asked Congress to approve immediately:

1. An increase in the present authorized strength of army, navy, marine and air force manpower by 349,500 officers and men.

2. Another $3,000,000,000 in cash and contract authority for the armed services to cover this expansion. This presumably would be in addition to $11,000,000,000 already in the budget.

3. Drafting by selective service of men from 19 to 25 years inclusive. He said this would provide 1,355,000 men but added that only about 220,000 probably would be taken. He estimated 500,000 probably would volunteer.

4. A permanent system of universal military training which would become fully effective within thre years. Forrestal said this would provide some 850,000 men each year with basic training.

Details Kept Secret

Forrestal said some of the details of the expanded armed service program must be presented later behind closed doors."

"Because of the world situation as it exists today, there is certain detailed information which we cannot safely disclose in open session," Forrestal said.

The current strength of the armed services is 1,392,000.

Forrestal indicated in his testimony before the Senate Armed Services committee that war veterans will not be included in the draft plans.

He said the 19-25 year age group includes a "total of 3,500,000 male non-veterans."

President Truman asked Congress March 17 in a special message to revive the temporary wartime draft and set up a permanent universal military training program to strength the U. S. In its role of protector of free nations against Communism.

Legislature Takes Recess For Easter

Lansing, March 25 (AP) — The legislature adjourned today for its four-day Easter recess with the house in the middle of debate on the first major appropriation bill of the special session.

The house spent two hours listening to explanations from Ways and Means committee members of appropriations to state regulatory agencies totalling $5,370,379.

Debate was cut off by a successful adjournment motion just as the committee members were about to bring up the controversial proposed reduction of 27 liquor commission inspectors.

Debate will be continued on the measure Tuesday evening when the legislature reconvenes. (At 8 p. m.).

The senate held a short, routine session before today's adjournment.

EXPECT EARLY AIRPORT WORK

Contract For Extension Of Runway Will Be Let This Spring

Col. Floyd Evans, state director of aeronautics, has informed City Manager A. V. Aronson that good progress is being made on the City of Escanaba's airport expansion project proposal and that it is anticipated the contract for the work will be let this spring.

Except for minor details the city has completed its ends of the project proposal and the papers are now in Lansing for review and final preparation by state aeronautics engineers. The project then will be transmitted to the federal CAA for approval.

The city recently received a shipment of airport landing lights, an outright contribution of the state aeronautics board secured from war surplus stocks. The lights will not be installed, however, until the airport runway extension project is completed.

City of Cleveland Settles Deal For That $29,000 Tree

Cleveland, March 25. (AP)—The $29,000 tree," which for months has blocked installation of a bad weather instrument landing system at Cleveland airport, was no more today.

Workmen felled the 40-foot elm yesterday after negotiations finally were completed for purchase of the tree, six acres of land and a 100-year-old house for $29,000.

The city wanted the tree cut down because it was too close to the glide path to be used in the blind landing system.

Karl Olson, owner of the property, planted the elm in a school Arbor Day program 47 years ago and he couldn't see having it chopped down. The city thought his $29,000 sale price was too high.

Under the terms finally agreed on, Olson and his family can continue to live rent free in the three-family dwelling until September.

Marquette, Mich. — The new Queen City Dress Manufacturing Co., which has a contract to make women's ready-to-wear garments for a large Chicago firm, has set up its plant at 329-331 West Washington street, in the Brickman building, formerly occupied by Pat Shea's cocktail lounge, and will begin operations next Monday.

William R. Davey, owner and operator of the new company, leased the building from David M. Abelew, who purchased it recently, and Davey said today he expected to employ about 125 persons when full capacity of the plant is reached. Thirty machines have been installed on the first floor, which means that approximately 30 workers will be employed when operations begin.

Garage Broken Into At Night; No Loot

The Peterson and Jacobsen garage, 1924 Ludington street, was entered between midnight and two o'clock this morning by someone who broke a window on the door but an examination indicated nothing had been stolen.

Patrolmen found the broken window at two o'clock. Apparently the intruder also cut his hand in breaking the window and in opening the latch on the door. Bloodstains were found on the glass and also on an air hose inside the building.

Windows were also broken at the Stegath Lumber company and Phoenix Lumber company during the night but neither place had been entered.

REDUCTION OF FIRES SOUGHT

Railroads To Cooperate In Meeting April 8

Ways and means of reducing railroad-caused fires in the 1948 season will be discussed by representatives of Upper Peninsula railroads and state and federal forest fighters at a meeting to be held in Escanaba, April 8, it was announced today.

Last year, handicapped by poor locomotive coal used when the mines were idle, railroads ranked second only to smokers in the number of forest fires started, with a total of 439 seperate fires. A large number of these fires were in this area of the Upper Peninsula.

Meeting with the railroad men will be an equal number of forest fire technicians from the conservation department, conservation department regional and district supervisors of the Upper Peninsula, and men from the national forests in the U. P.

A similar meeting for railroad men and forest fire fighters is scheduled for March 30-31 at Higgins Lake.

"Types of Coal" is one of the principal topics of the scheduled meetings. The railroad men and forest fire fighters will discuss burning-off rights of way, effectiveness of patrols following trains (on motorized hand cars called speeders), and locomotive screens and spark arresters.

Police Confiscate Rifles, Bats, Balls In Illegal Usage

City police indicated this morning that they will confiscate bats, balls and other equipment used by children who continue to play on the streets, as well as air rifles used by children or others within the city.

The police department revealed that increasing numbers of calls have been received regarding children playing in the street. One child was injured the other day by being struck by a car while playing in the street. Police emphasized the danger in this practice and declared that in order to discourage it the patrolmen have been instructed to confiscate equipment used by the children in the streets.

A new outbreak in the use of air rifles, familiarly known as B-B guns, also has been reported and local police have already confiscated a number of these from youngsters who have been shooting them in the city. Recently a number of windows were broken at a local church and a school by youngsters using air rifles.

Bark River Puts Heap On Funds For Red Cross

Bark River township added a heap to their quota for the Delta County Red Cross fund drive.

Bark River contributed $351.39 to the Red Cross drive.

U. P. HIGHWAY JOBS AWARDED

Bridges Given Contracts On Three State Projects

C. G. Bridges, Escanaba contractor whose bids were low on three state highway department projects in the Upper Peninsula, has been awarded construction contracts for 1948 totaling $469,437.21 by the state administrative board.

The state has awarded Bridges contracts for the following state highway work:

Delta county—Construction of a 70-foot steel and concrete bridge on M-35 crossing Bark river at Fuller Park 16 miles southwest of Escanaba. The contract price is $55,980.36.

Delta county — Grading and drainage structures and 1.205 miles of concrete pavement on M-35 through Fuller Park at the Bark river bridge relocation. Contract price is $106,456.85.

Chippewa county—5.987 miles of concrete pavement on M-28 from east of Raco to the junction with M-221. Bridges was awarded a contract on his bid of $307,000.

At the present time the Bridges equipment and crew are employed at the Cut River bridge US-2 relocation in Mackinac county, where about five miles of concrete pavement will be built this summer. Paving is expected to start there as soon as the weather permits.

Bridges will then move his equipment to the M-28 job in Chippewa county, according to a report from Sault Ste. Marie.

William E. Crowley Dies in Marquette

Marquette, Mich.—William E. Crowley, 74, well known Marquette resident and retired railway mail clerk, died at 9 Tuesday night in St. Mary's hospital, where he had been a patient one week. He had been in ill health for some time.

Born July 12, 1874, in Marquette, he was first appointed as a mail clerk in 1906 on the Soo & Minneapolis line. In 1908 he was transferred in the Mackinaw & Calumet railway post office, where he worked until his retirement in 1936.

LEADING LADY — Miss Mary Roberts, a former student of the radio drama workshop of the Wisconsin College of Music in Milwaukee, will play the role of the leading lady in the coming Civic Theatre production, "Three Cornered Moon," in William Bonifas auditorium April 1.

Miss Roberts is receptionist and switchboard operator for the Escanaba Paper company. She has been active in both stage and radio drama with Civic Theatre for over a year.

In the role of Elizabeth, in the three-act farce, Miss Roberts portrays a sophisticated, but dignified young college graduate, in love with a novelist.

Prior to returning to Escanaba from radio school, the young lady was active in stage drama. One of the last shows she played in was "Summons of Sariel."

Hopeful Finland

PRESIDENT Juho K. Paasikivi of Finland has promised his people that the parliamentary elections next July will be free. It is a promise made presumably to allay fears that Finland would be under Communistic rule by that time, a condition that the Finns know would make it impossible to conduct a free election.

Czechoslovakia, too, is preparing now for parliamentary elections. Since the Czechs fell under the rim of Stalin's iron curtain elections in that country are no longer unfettered. The Communists there announced Tuesday that the ballot would be denied to those who collaborated with the Germans and those who are "working against the people and democracy." The latter reference is to anti-Communists for the Reds always refer to communism as the only form of democracy.

Thus, anyone who cannot prove an allegiance to communism will be denied the privilege of voting in the approaching election in Czechoslovakia. That's democracy a la Stalin.

We've often wondered why the Communists even bother about running an election in areas where they are in control. Only Communist candidates are permitted on the ballot anyway and anyone who dares vote against the Communist candidate is flirting with trouble—sudden and violent.

Little Finland seems confident that it can withstand the pressure from Moscow, at least until July when the parliamentary elections will be held. That's the promise of President Paasikivi, who has guaranteed a free and unfettered election. It is a bold pledge in view of the Finnish-Russo negotiations now under way in Moscow.

Overcrowded Areas

THE city planning commission is considering further revision of the zoning ordinance as a means of preventing overcrowding of houses in residential districts. The general public, we believe, will full-heartedly approve of this objective.

A drive through many of the city's residential streets will quickly show the need for some restrictive legislation to prevent repetition of overcrowded areas.

Adoption of minimum sidelines under the schedule now proposed by the planning commission will probably result in wider lots in new area developments. That is one of the aims of the proposal.

The proposed revision of the zoning ordinance also deals with restrictions in areas already substantially built up and in some of these situations the appeal board may have to grant exceptions from the general ordinance in the interests of fairness. Failure to do so might result in making a lot previously purchased for building purposes now useless to the purchaser because of subsequent restrictions. This is particularly true with some corner lots, where sideline restrictions are more severe than inside lots.

Recent revision of the zoning ordinance was merely stopgap legislation to provide assurance that there would not be any more overcrowding while the city planners were studying the problem. The present restrictions are unfair because they provide minimum distances between homes on adjacent lots rather than sideline distances.

Swedish Pioneer Centennial

THE Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Delta county committee of the Swedish Pioneer Centennial celebration, has assumed the responsibility of staging an Upper Peninsula observance program in Escanaba on June 15 and 16.

Much progress already has been made in making plans for the Upper Peninsula celebration. Prince Bertil and a party of Swedish dignitaries wil lcome here for an overnight stay, Escanaba being the smallest community selected for a stop on the transcontinental tour of the group. In addition, a troupe of Swedish girl gymnasts, who have performed in the capitals of Europe, will appear here.

It is fitting that the Upper Peninsula should participate in the Swedish Pioneer Centennial. Escanaba, Gladstone, Manistique, Negaunee, Iron River and virtually every other community in the region have sizable representations of the Swedish people. These immigrants from Sweden, along with their children and grandchildren, have contributed immeasurably to the economic, social and cultural development of the Upper Peninsula.

The purposes of the Swedish Pioneer Centennial are:

To observe fittingly the centennial of the arrival of the first Swedish Pioneers who settled in the Middle Western states in substantial numbers beginning in 1848.

To take cognizance of and make known at this time the contribution of the Swedish Pioneers and their descendants have made to American life.

To assemble, preserve and publish books, records and documents of historical value and significance relating to the Swedish Pioneers and their accomplishments in helping build the great Middle West.

It is logical that the Upper Peninsula should be playing a leading role in such an observance program.

Russian Boycott

THE Russian boycott of the allied control council in Berlin, the governmental administration of Berlin itself and the coordinating agency for the various occupation zones, is effective now because the Soviets temporarily are in the driver's seat. The council chairmanship rotates periodically between the big four powers and at the moment the chairman of the council is a Russian. This authority permits Russia to cancel all scheduled meetings in an effort to break down the effectiveness of the council and implement the Soviet boycott.

The chairmanship will automatically pass to an American shortly, however. It will be interesting to see if the Russians will boycott the council under those circumstances. The Russians' purpose in the boycott is to discourage the allied powers, particularly the United States, in the hope that they will get out of Berlin and leave the administration of the former German capital entirely to the Russians. Up to now the Americans and the western powers have taken the position that they are in Berlin legally and they have no intention of getting out, regardless of whatever attitude the Russians may take.

Other Editorial Comments

CALM REALISM

(Christian Science Monitor)

The Urban League is a national organization directed by boards of community leaders, both Negro and White, staffed by Negroes, and devoted to betterment of the economic and social condition of the Negro, particularly in the cities. Its annual report, just issued, has pertinent things to say.

It warns of hysterical emotionalism which could "overnight disrupt a social situation which had seemed stable and growing in promise."

Of this hysteria most Americans are probably aware. A greater awareness of that social situation and why it has been "stable and growing in promise" would help to quiet the hysteria.

There has been no major race riot since World War Two, says the report.

Fewer Negroes than expected have been dropped by industry in the conversion from war to peace.

There is a wider acceptance of "democratic employment practices."

Municipalities are taking greater responsibility for preventing "gross racial injustices" and the "more obvious forms" of discrimination.

Leadership—in government, labor, and the churches—gives evidence of a "sobered viewpoint" and of "maturing wisdom."

Amid the rantings of some in the South who talk as though the Bill of Rights has meaning only on the white side of a color line, and the naive fervor of extremists of both races in the North, who argue as though the barriers of centuries could be dismissed with a wave of a legislative hand, these words of the Urban League have the ring of informed confidence and calm realism. They should be listened to.

ERNST LUBITSCH

(Washington Star)

Although it is an axiom that the cinema is a "director's medium," which is to say that the director is the completely dominant force in movie making, few of the type manage to become bywords in the vocabulary of fandom. Among the exceptions to this rule was Ernst Lubitsch, who died Sunday in Hollywood.

"The Lubitsch touch" which he developed was the work of an artistically creative man. It was at once a simple and subtle thing, light, quick and revealing, always brought off with irreproachable taste. Lubitsch's heroine and hero were fundamentally all men and women, but they also had a touch—the Lubitsch—of Cinderella and Prince Charming.

It was as if the German director, brought here in 1918, held up a mirror, not to life, but deftly to the human heart and caught something of the image of its eternal hope for romantic love.

In making the movie millions happy, it brought them escape which may well be the highest destiny the screen need aspire to today.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

THE OXFORD DICTIONARY

This question turns up occasionally in my mail, and it usually comes from a teacher: "Why is it that you do not base all your recommendations on usage and pronunciation on the greatest of all authorities, the Oxford English Dictionary?"

Such a question implies that (1) American usage and pronunciation is or should be based on British English; (2) the Oxford is the "Bible" of both British and American English; (3) the Oxford is an authoritative guide to modern usage and pronunciation. None of these suppositions have any basis in fact. Let us discuss them in that order:

1. American English has not been interrelated with British English for more than 300 years. American usage, spelling, pronunciation, and vocabulary differ so widely from the British that no (English) authority can determine what is correct or incorrect in the American langauge.

2. The Oxford English Dictionary is a great storehouse of historical facts about words, both British and American. The monumental work consists of 10 large volumes and one supplement. But it is a history and is concerned chiefly with word origins. It cannot be used as a guide to present-day usage because:

3. The work on the Oxford English Dictionary was begun in 1859 by a large staff of readers who assembled a tremendous mass of material. In 1879 Dr. James A. H. Murray and his assistants began to compile the dictionary alphabetically. The work was not finished until 1928. The supplement was published in 1933.

Now we see that a good deal of the assembled material was 20 years old by the time the actual dictionary was started, and is now 89 years out of date, and that all the material in the A section is now at least 69 years out of date, and that the very last sections are now at least 20 years out of date.

In other words, the first sections range from the archaic to the aged to the old, while the final sections range from the old to the middle-aged to the not-so-young.

Hence, not even the very last sections reflect present-day usage, even in English.

The Oxford is interesting and profitable to consult; but it cannot in any way be accepted as a guide to the correct usage, spelling, and pronunciation of American English. And Americans, particularly American teachers, will save themselves much trouble and confusion if they will rely on our good American authorities.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—One sure sign of the rising and falling tide of political fortune is the crop of vice-presidential candidates. The severe frost that blighted President Truman's prospects of re-election has withered a whole hotbed full of Democratic hopefuls.

Childs

It is hard to realize that only a few short weeks ago the public - opinion polls showed Truman's chances to be better than even with all but one or two of the then available Republican candidates. As was said in that dim and distant day, you could not swing a cat on the Senate floor without hitting a vice-presidential candidate.

That is also true today. But now the hopefuls are aspiring for the Republican nomination for vice-president. In order to get a candidate for second place on the Democratic ticket, one cynic remarked, Congress will have to pass a draft act.

At least six Republicans in the Senate are looking bright and eager and ready. A list of those willing to say yes would probably include all Republican senators under 80. That would eliminate only Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas and there is no guarantee that, if pressed sufficiently, he would not in the end consent to accept the honor.

ACTIVE CANDIDATES

The active candidates most frequently named are Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, Sen. William F. Knowland of California, and Senators Henry Cabot Lodge jr., and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

One Democratic senator remarked wryly, paraphrasing a Dorothy Parker wisecrack, that this list ran the political gamut from A to B. This is grossly unfair. Lodge and Saltonstall, for example, have worked hard for a bi-partisan foreign policy—particularly the former who has been one of Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg's most able backers in presenting the case for European recovery.

Jenner, on the other hand, has derided and ridiculed the program both in and out of the Senate. Baldwin has taken a far more realistic point of view on the need for the party to support liberal measures here at home than his Cain of Washington.

The House also has its candidate for vice-president. Conspicuous among them is Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who is majority leader. As one of the half dozen men who tell the House what it can and cannot do under Republican control, Halleck exercises a power commensurate with his ambition.

It is just possible that this year the Republicans may give more serious attention to the selection of a vice-presidential nominee. Traditionally the second-place candidate is found under a sofa in a smoke-filled hotel room as the professionals rush to wind up the convention. But that method has its hazards, as American history and contemporary events abundantly prove.

VANDENBERG IS 64

Two of the men frequently mentioned for the GOP nomination for president are no longer young. Sen Vandenberg would be 65 less than three months after inauguration. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose nomination at this point seems highly probable, would be pushing 70. Public attention would, therefore, tend to focus on the second place more than it normally does.

In the past, geography has been an important factor in selecting the man for second place. If the presidential candidate is from the eastern seaboard, then the Middlewest gets the nod.

As a result, we often get two utterly incongruous men linked on the same ticket. And the last-minute political deal is likely to produce the same result, as was demonstrated at the Democratic convention in 1932 when Franklin Roosevelt and John Nance Garner were nominated.

The GOP combination that is being discussed with increasing seriousness is that of Sen. Vandenberg for the No. 1 place and Harold Stassen for No. 2. That would be a powerful and harmonious ticket.

Stassen is only a little more than half of Vandenberg's age. On the essentials of foreign policy they are in complete agreement. Stassen has several times praised Vandenberg for his leadership in the Senate.

This is the kind of ticket which the independent voter will expect from the convention at Philadelphia. No half-man half-alligator combination, conjured up at the last minute, will do this year.

Looks Like an Exciting Finish

BREAKING UP—Ice that has held tight the harbors and connecting channels of the Great Lakes is now releasing its grip. Soon the weakened ice will be pushed from the shores and go shuttling around wind driven to its destruction.

Dunathan

Oldtimers among Great Lakes mariners will tell you that Lake Michigan once "froze solid" from shore to shore. Whether this is so we do not know, but it is possible, and probable. For even at the present time, after a winter of average temperatures, the ice cover extends over most of the north end of the lake. There is broken ice and drifting fields as far south as the Manistee-Kewaunee line. Ice fields are reported 20 miles off-shore at Michigan City, southern end of the lake.

* * *

SHORE TO SHORE—Unlike Lake Michigan, the always-cold waters of Lake Superior never have such extensive ice fields. Telford E. Young, nautical scientist at the U. S. Navy branch hydrographic office at Duluth, reports that on Lake Superior the ice extends out from the shores, but at no time is even one-quarter of the lake frozen over.

About mid-April the ice breaks up and goes drifting with the wind, and sometimes it packs into windrows 10 and 15 feet deep.

But Lake Superior is unique in many ways. The crystal coldness of its water even in mid-summer, its reputation for never giving up the dead, and other facts and fancies give it an air of mystery. Not the least strange is that this coldest and northermost of the Great Lakes has ice fields even less extensive than Lake Michigan.

* * *

THE BOTTLENECKS—The Straits of Mackinac and the St. Marys river are the two principal bottlenecks to lakes navigation. Especially so at this season of the year, when the ice piles deep in the channels.

The Straits of Mackinac has always been treacherous, both in summer and in wintertime. Swift and changing currents weaken the under-surface of the ice, leaving death traps for the unwary. This is particularly true in springtime.

At Mackinac Island the story is told of the mailman who, in March, was returning from the mainland with a sleighload of mail. He had made the crossing many times. The ice appeared solid and safe. When he was in mid-channel and still about two miles from the Island he heard the horrifying rumble of breaking ice around him. Whipping the horse into a furious gallop, and not once looking back, he raced for the Island. Only when he reached the safety of the shore did he halt—and behind him where there had been solid ice there was now only the mad plunging of ice cakes in the raging current.

* * *

THE WOMAN WHO WALKED—Strange quirks of fate can bring death in the icy waters, or save the lives of those in whom desperation has conquered fear.

Many years ago an Upper Peninsula young woman became infatuated with an older man and ran off with him against the wishes of her parents. It was wintertime, and in the hour-long battle of the carferry across the Straits of Mackinaw, the girl had time to think of her folly and to change her mind.

Reaching Mackinaw City she told the man that she was not going with him and, fearing to remain away from home overnight, set out at dusk to walk back across the four miles of ice to St. Ignace.

As darkness lowered she hurried faster and faster toward the lights of the town on the Upper Peninsula shore. Arriving there, she hired an automobile to return her to her home.

In the morning when the carferry returned to St. Ignace the wheelsman was amazed to see the tracks of a woman on the snow-covered ice. He directed the attention of the captain to them. And what left them stunned was that the woman's tracks had crossed and recrossed the channel of the carferry several times. The ice on that channel was only a fraction of an inch thick. In other places it was open. It was as if some kindly hand had guided the steps of the remorseful girl, bringing her safely home again.

* * *

DEATH'S DOOR—Green bay ice is usually considered safe in mid-winter. But the channel between Washington Island and the Door county peninsula is noted for freakish currents that make the ice crossing treacherous. This channel is known as Death's Door.

A few years ago two carloads of Washington Island young men returning from a basketball game in Door county, were racing across the ice in their cars on their way to the Island. One of the cars, containing four young men, took a short cut. Suddenly its lights disappeared. It had struck thin ice and plunged to the bottom, carrying the young men to their death.

And at Whitefish Point several Coast Guardsmen escaped death only by a seeming miracle. They had set out to rescue two fishermen marooned on drifting ice. New ice was forming on the open water through which the Coast Guard boat was speeding. Suddenly their boat began to sink—its hull sliced through by the razor-sharp edge of the thin ice. Only the air-tight metal bulkheads kept them afloat until rescuers arrived.

Washington (AP)— The flashy little man with the flashy big diamond threw open the door to one of the swankier dining rooms in one of Washington's swankier hotels.

"This," said the flashy little man, "is our laboratory."

Here, in a setting usually reserved for fun, frivolity and foolishness, sat a group of determined looking men and women.

Nearly all were wearing well-fed diamonds.

Nearly all were peering through their dichroscopes, polariscopes, refractometers or diamondscopes.

The American Gem Society was holding its annual final exams.

The first delegate I bumped into was Everett C. Hardy of Boston. He said the Society has around 1,250 members, and that this examination always highlights its conventions.

"You'd never guess it," he said, "but there are some people who can't even tell a green tourmaline from an emerald."

"No!" I said, incredulous.

"Yes," said Hardy. "See that man there, the one looking through the diamondscope. He's trying to resolve an inclusion in the stone. He's searching for a cleavage, a speck, a cloud, a color band, A—."

In other words, a flaw.

Those using the other highfalutin' contraptions were on similar hunts, searching for clues that would help to identify the stones.

Is the examination tough ?

"Tough?" echoed H. Paul Juergens of Chicago. "Only 150 persons have passed our highest test and become a certified gemologist."

Juergens looked back fondly to the time when he made the grade.

"First we were given a six-hour written test, with books," he said. You know what foolscap is: I filled 37 pages of foolscap.

"Then we had another six-hour written test, this time without books.

"And then we had the lab test, like some of these people are taking here.

"This is the hard one. You are given 20 stones, and you have to name all 20 of them correctly."

A difficult job, eh?

"Difficult!" gasped Juergens. "Why, last year only 18 reached the finals—and only one passed."

Juergens didn't want to offend anyone. But he said the oldtime jeweler—who poked a magnifying glass in one eye to diagnose a gem—made a lot of errors.

"He had to work without modern instruments," Juergens explained. "And he tended to identify everything by color.

"If it was red, it was a ruby. If it was colorless, it was quartz. Actually stones must be identified by mineral, not color." Here I was taken in tow by Oscar Kind, jr., of Philadelphia. (His shirt was monogrammed "O. K., jr.") Kind had some stones mounted on a chart.

"This chart shows," said Kind, "that a stone may be any color. Take the corumdum group. When the stone is red, it's a ruby. When the same stone is yellow, pink, green, blue or colorless, we call it a sapphire. If it's violet, it's amethstine sapphire.

"As far as I know, only one stone shows up in only one color. That's the peridot. It's green."

Jewelry used during this conversation, he said, was worth $250,000. No, they weren't giving away any free samples.

It was on this disappointing note that I left.

New York's world famous residential street called Park Ave. was not so named until 1888.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Last week I gave the following broadcast short-wave translated into Italian to the Italian people:

Pearson

"Amechi Italiani! It seems only a very short time ago since I was traveling through Italy on the Friendship Train. I remember vividly the hosts of Italian friends who greeted us: The children of Naples with their flags, the stirring reception Premier de Gasperi gave us at the Campidoglio in Rome, and the railroad crew that threatened to strike because they wanted the honor of hauling the Friendship Train beyond Bologna.

"And I want to tell the mayor of Udine that we are still telling people over here about the beautiful folk songs and dances he arranged for us, and about the little boys' bands that rehearsed for three weeks before the Friendship Train arrived. And I want to tell the children of Padua and Bologna and all the other cities that we have been showing Americans the friendship drawings they so thoughtfully brought to the train.

"And Gorizia; Well, there is one thing I haven't told Americans about Gorizia—namely, how hard I worked trying to learn a speech in Italian, and how sympathetic the thousands of people in Gorigia were when I tried to deliver it.

"My thoughts and those of many other Americans have been with the Italian people since that time, especially so right now.

"This week, the Italian film, 'Thanks America,' expressing the gratitude of the Italian people for the Friendship Train was shown before members of the American cabinet, the supreme court, the Senate and House of Representatives—a stirring demonstration of Italian - American friendship.

"Your American friends have also been thinking about you these days because we have been worried. We have been worried by disturbing reports that some of the things we fought for may now be forgotten.

"I think I can truly say—because I knew well the American soldier—that they were sincerely fighting a war to end war and preserve democracy. And many of you, though your Fascist dictator was on the other side, courageously helped them toward that goal.

ARMISTICE DIDN'T BRING PEACE

"But when the armistice came, and we sent our armies home, we found that another power didn't. At first we couldn't believe this. As allies we had trusted each other. But with the end of the war, when one power kept a big army in the field we began to wonder. And as that army marched into other weaker countries to enforce its rule we wondered more, and became worried.

"The American Army was demobilized from the huge total of 15,000,000 men to only 600,000 in a few short months, but our ally, though discharging a few men, has kept a very large army.

"Then another thing happened that you in Italy may not know about. I consider it most important.

"During the war the United States had developed a new and terrifying weapon—so terrifying that after the United Nations was organized, we offered to abolish this weapon—the atom bomb. We offered to wipe it out altogether and never make another bomb—on one condition.

"That condition was that an international board be appointed to inspect the war plants of other nations to make sure they were not making the bomb which we had agreed not to make.

"But this one power, this former ally which had not demobilized, refused to cooperate. It refused this generous American offer to abolish the atom bomb. This one country refused to have the United Nations inspect its war plants — though we were willing to have ours inspected.

"Now I am a newspaperman who frequently publishes news which Washington officials do not like. And as a newspaperman I studied this atom - bomb question most carefully. I can assure you that my government and the American people were most sincere in their desire to cooperate.

"I am afraid the refusal by one power to accept this act of friendship has led to more distrust and ill will than anything that has happened since the end of Hitler.

"For if the atom bomb could be abolished, and the peacetime secret of the atom could be shared by the world, it would bring a new haven of happiness and prosperity. If the atom could be harnessed for peacetime medicine and industry, it would mean the end of Italy's worries over coal, it would mean energy for the great factories of Milan and Bologna and Turin without importing one ton of coal. It would mean heated homes for all Italy—the sunshine of the summer blossoming forth in the winter.

"All this, America offered to the world. And because of one nation, it was refused.

AMERICA HAS ITS FAULTS

"Now you have heard some critical things about the United States these days when propaganda is being spread so energetically from certain sources; and I would be the first to deny that we in America don't have our faults. We have plenty of them.

But I know the American people, and this much I can tell you. They sincerely, devoutly want peace, and are willing to work at it. The Friendship Train was one example. That was an effort by all sorts of Americans, high and low, to show their friendship for needy people in Europe, even though some of those people once had been classified as enemies.

"The Marshall plan and the tons and tons of wheat we have sent to Europe is another example of working at peace and friendship. When I was in Italy, I heard some Italians say that the Marshall plan was just a clever scheme to benefit America, a device to bolster our prosperity."

CAPT. GREENE IS A WOMAN

She Enjoys Monopoly On Mississippi Stern-Wheelers

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New Orleans, La.—Girl and woman, Capt. Mary Greene has been steaming up and down the river since 1893, but she's never been to sea yet. More than that she raised three younguns on a paddle wheel steamboat, and in 58 years of chugging up and down, she never lost a youngun or a passenger.

Ruark

Capt. Greene, a little, gnarled old lady who has a corner on a dying mode of transportation, the stern-wheeler, modestly lists herself as hostess aboard the S. S. Gordon C. Greene, which she owns. Together with her three sons, Capt. Greene owns five paddlewheelers, involving an investment of well over a million dollars. The Delta Queen, her son Tom's boat, runs in the summertime. The other three are tied up.

The S. S. Gordon Greene, over which the lady skipper presides, is like nothing so much as a slice of St. Petersburg, Fla., cast adrift. Her passengers are apt to be creaky, as a rule, and the decks are lined with rocking chairs. On the long trip down the Mississippi from Cincinnati, the ancient riverfarers sit and rock, play bridge for 40th-of-a-cent points, and turn in early.

No Gamblers Aboard

No Mississippi gamblers ride Ma Greene's craft, and there is no carousing on a run that used to be a ripsnorter. Capt. Greene sells no hard licker on her boat, because she says her husband used to tell her that no man can be his own boss and sell whiskey.

The S. S. Gordon Greene takes its own sweet time getting down from Cincinnati and back again. It splashes along at a speedy 15 knots downstream, and struggles mightily to make eight on the long haul back. She burns oil instead of lightwood knots, and she has electricity and an orchestra but they still call her upper deck the Texas, and I imagine the shade of Mark Twain could find his way around her with little trouble.

Practically everybody above decks is a captain on Ma Greene's old churner. The master carries the title of captain, of course, and so does the mate. There are two Ohio river pilots, each a captain, two Mississippi river pilots, each a captain, and Mrs. Greene is just as good a captain, she says, as any of them.

Has Pilot's License

She got her Ohio River pilot's license a good bit back when she and her husband were both running separate ships. The male Captain Greene took over a vessel that was losing money, and shoved his bride aboard her.

"We made five dollars profit the first week," says Mrs. Greene, proudly, "and never made less than $50 clear after that. My husband said he figured steamboatin' needed a woman's touch."

Capt. Greene skippered her ship for 18 years, thereafter, taking occasional time out to have a baby, and securing the livelier progeny to the stanchions with a rope when she had a difficult piece of piloting to do. She ran, and still runs, I believe, what is called a taut ship.

Her powers of life and death over the passengers and crew are somewhat curtailed, if viewed alongside the absolutism of a seagoing skipper. She cannot, for instance, marry a couple while her vessel is under way, but she can clap an unruly hand or passenger in the brig. She has never fretted very much about not being able to weld a moon-smitten couple, since all she has to do is work the ship over to the nearest cypress stump and holler for a preacher to come a-running.

Steadfastly, Capt. Greene has avoided the paternal assistance of seamen's unions. The only union represented on the good ship Gordon C. Greene is run by Master James Caesar Petrillo, who watches over the health and happiness of her orchestra. There evidently is small demand for unionization on a ship where everybody but the purser and the junior hostess seem to answer to the title of "Captain."

Life on the Mississippi, while overly sedate, is still pleasing to Capt. Greene, but after 58 years, she is beginning to get restless. She says she sure would like to take a boat on that ocean sometime, just for laughs.

INCREASED BY ACTIVITY

The quantity of blood which reaches the lungs of a man at rest is from three to seven quarts every minute, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica and may be increased to 20 or 30 quarts per minute during exercise.

The Regent diamond got its name when it was sold to the Duke of Orleans, then Regent of France, for about $650,000.

Andrew E. Gayan Injured In Motor Car Derailment

The condition of Andrew E. Gayan, who was injured in a Chicago & North Western motor car derailment Monday morning at Kenosha, Wis., and who is a patient in Kenosha hospital, is improved, according to his mother, Mrs. Frank Gayan, who returned last night from Kenosha.

Mr. Gayan, a welder for the railway company, who was transferred from Escanaba to Kenosha a few weeks ago, suffered a severe scalp wound, knee injuries and other bruises and cuts when the motor car on which he and his helper were going to work, hit a toy truck left on the tracks by children, and was derailed, throwing both men on the road bed.

Mr. Gagan's wife, the former Celeste Kenny, and his mother were called to Kenosha immediately following the accident and the junior Mrs. Gayan is remaining there with him.

BRADLEY BOATS OPEN SHIPPING

John G. Munson First Through Straits

Rogers City, Mich., March 25 (AP)—The steamship John G. Munson sailed from here today and officials said she would be the first ship of 1948 through the Straits of Mackinac.

At almost the same time, a sister ship, the B. H. Taylor, left Manitowoc, Wis. She is expected to move eastward through the Straits after the Munson completes her westward passage.

Both ships are owned by the Bradley Transportation Co.

The Munson, loaded with stone, is bound for Chicago.

She was to be met near the Straits by the icebreaker Mackinaw, which will escort her to clear water. Then the Mackinaw will stand by for the eastward passage of the Taylor, bound without cargo for Rogers City.

Officials of the Bradley company said they received a report of broken fields of ice from Cheboygan, Mich., to a point six miles east of Lansing shoals in Lake Michigan.

A spokesman said the Munson should enter the narrow 64-mile Straits, connecting Lakes Huron and Michigan, about 4 p. m. (EST) today. They expect the passage to be complete "before midnight."

The Taylor should enter the Straits as soon as the Munson completes her passage, the official added.

Another Bradley ship, the Carl D. Bradley, was to leave Lorraine, O., today without cargo for Rogers City. A fourth vessel, the T. W. Robinson, is loading stone at Rogers City and is expected to leave tonight or Friday for Chicago.

RIFLE WOUND FATAL

Coldwater, Mich., March 25 (AP)—Pretty 16-year-old Flavian Watkins died of a rifle wound in Community Health Center here early today and authorities arrested a youth for questioning.

Before accepting this new position on March 1, Mr. Fields was a farm forester with the State Department of Conservation for four years. He was graduated from Michigan State college with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Legion Cartoonist Wallgren Dies In Philadelphia at 56

Philadelphia, March 25 (AP) — Abian A. (Wally) Wallgren, 56, cartoonist for "Stars and Stripes" during the first World War, died yesterday following a long illness.

Wallgren was credited by Gen. John J. Pershing with keeping up the morale of thousands of doughboys with his travesties on officers and his humorous illustrations picturing the difficulties and problems of soldiers.

Following the war, he continued his activities on the American staff of Stars and Stripes, then joined the American Legion monthly. He continued with that magazine up to the time of his recent illness.

Among Wallgren's creations were "Inbad the Sailor" "Hoosegow Herman," and "The Saluting Demon."

Funeral services will be held Monday.

Flood Fears Eased By Clear Weather In River Valleys

Chicago, March 25. (AP) — Fair weather and mild temperatures prevailed over most of the central and eastern sections of the country today, further easing flood fears in the principal river valleys.

Rain and snow fell in scattered areas of the mountain and plains states. The precipitation belt appeared headed toward the North Central region.

Heaviest snowfall was four inches in Great Falls, while lesser amounts fell in western Utah and over Nevada. The soaking rains which hit drought-stricken areas of California yesterday ended but there were falls in the plains states and in northern Minnesota.

The precipitation in California brought a measure of relief to ranchers and helped late crops, but much more rain was needed to ease the critical irrigation and water problems in the rich agricultural Central Valley. The falls measured more than three inches in northern sections.

Woodbine Here To Break Ice

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter "Woodbine" entered Little Bay de Noc at 1 o'clock this afternoon and made her way into Escanaba harbor to break ice around ore and coal docks. The "Woodbine" will finish icebreaking work started when the "Mackinaw" plowed a channel north to Kipling Tuesday night.

No boats are yet scheduled to Escanaba, although early arrivals of oil and coal are expected when ice conditions permit. So far no ore has arrived at the C&NW docks and the first ore carrier is not definitely scheduled.

Boy Escapes, Tells About Venice, Calif., Spinsters' Prison

Venice, Calif., March 25. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy related in court a story of virtual imprisonment in the strange house at 7 Avenue 20, and how two elderly spinsters kept him "tied up most of the time."

"I was untied to eat, and that's about all," John Joseph Wayne testified yesterday. He was a witness at a preliminary hearing for Marie Clavey, 60, and Josephine Vella, 58, charged with inhuman treatment of children and false imprisonment.

The Wayne boy fled the run-down seashore home of the two women two weeks ago. Investigators later found Edna Bessie Dinsmore, 27, cowering in a trunk in the house and also discovered that Mary Reichel, nine, had lived there.

The boy testified he was beaten frequently. He said meals at the house consisted of corn meal in the morning, bread at noon and corn meal, potato peelings and carrots at night.

Parolees Confess 27 Safe-Cracking Jobs in Michigan

Waukesha, Wis., March 25 (AP)—A series of 27 safe-cracking jobs in Western Michigan were listed as solved today after two parolees from Southern Michigan Prison admitted the burglaries last night.

Wisconsin and Grand Rapids, Mich. police said the pair—Harry J. Entrican, 31, and Kenneth M. Olin, 37, both of Grand Rapids — made oral admissions of the burglaries following long questioning yesterday.

Detectives Morey Butler and Thomas Mc Gavin of Grand Rapids said about $8,200 had been taken in the robberies, most of them in Kent county.

Entrican and Olin had a full set of burglar tools, two guns, a gas mask and a walkie-talkie set in their possession when they were nabbed by a suspicious Racine police officer Monday.

District Attorney Homer Williams said the men admitted three burglaries here over the weekend. They were arraigned in Municipal court and held in $10,000 bonds for further hearing Monday.

Principal occupations of Sicily are the raising of grapes, lemons, oranges, olives, almonds and wheat and macaroni manufacture.

Sales Tax Repeal Hasn't A Chance, Governor Declares

Lansing, March 25 (AP)—House leaders were today committed to a program of going ahead with a resolution to remove from the November ballot the repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment even though two votes were lacking.

Removal of the proposed repeal was asked by Governor Sigler who said, "frankly, it doesn't have a chance."

After a secret caucus of House Republicans yesterday, Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) said it had been agreed to introduce the withdrawing resolution.

Of the 80 members who attended, 65 pledged "yes" votes, Knox said, two short of the necessary two-thirds majority.

"I am confident we can muster the two votes," Knox said.

Opponents of the move, however, said they were just as determined to keep the two votes on their side.

Though no poll of the Senate has been taken, observers said the proposal might face a similar nip and tuck battle in that House. Opponents of the plan believe that the Legislature's removing the repeal question would give the impression that the legislature favored the amendment.

CITY PING PONG CHAMPIONS — Champions in six singles divisions and three doubles divisions in the annual Escanaba ping pong tournament were crowned at the Youth Center this week. Pictured above are five of the singles titlists, the missing champion being Deloris Groos, intermediate girls. At the left is Art Peterson, who not only managed the tournament but went to the finals of the senior men's class before being nosed out in a five-game thriller by Bob Dufour. From left to right are Peterson, Bob Dufour, senior men's; Donna Blixt, junior girls; Dick Lough, intermediate boys; Sally Stack, senior girls, and Jerome Besson, junior boys.

Too Many Exhibitions And Too Little Practice, Say Baseball Managers

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, March 25 (AP)—Latest reports from the south seem to confirm the general impression that major league baseball clubs will return to their old training programs next year and forget about the March 1 starting date . . Already managers are squawking that they've practiced . . But, strangely, the pitchers on most clubs still seem to be "ahead" of the hitters, although they didn't get the benefit of a week's head start this year . . . Lincoln high school of San Jose, Calif., tossed six pitchers into a ball game against Campbell high recently and none of them gave a hit.

Quote, Unquote

Joe Lapchick, N. Y. Knickerbockers' coach: "Kentucky is the only college basketball team I've seen this year which has five players who are pro material. I'd take all five for the Knicks, if I could get them."

One-Minute Sports Page

It's being whispered around that Herman Hickman probably would have passed up the Yale football coaching job if he had listened to friends at West Point, but he went into seclusion to avoid being influenced . . . And friends say that Sid Gillman, Herman's successor, took the Army post because he was becoming discouraged. Sid is recognized as one of the smartest small college coaches, but he wasn't getting any tumbles from the big colleges . . . After looking over Phillie pitching the other day, the Yankees had more praise for Pitcher Robin Roberts, fresh out of Michigan State college, than for the ballyhooed Curt Simmons . . . National Hockey league statisticians have figured out that the average number of playoff games required to settle the Stanley Cup during the past five years has been 16.

Pretty Precedent

Another sports "first" will be marked up at Des Moines, Ia., Saturday when the state girls' champion basketball teams of Texas and Iowa clash in an inter-state playoff. Mesquite high of Dallas county, Tex., and Kamrar high of Iowa will represent their states and folks out that way believe its the first such inter-state affair on record . . . More than 7,000 tickets had been sold by last week, proving there's a lot of interest.

Cleaning the Cuff

William and Mary, which had last year's top college tennis team, is opening a new season with Fred Kovaleski and Tut Bartzen battling for the top spot, left vacant when Gardner Larned migrated to Collins . . . Babe Zaharias, the Colorado Greek wrestler, and Babe Zaharias, the feminine golfer, may appear simultaneously in Los Angeles . . . But there is little danger of confusing them.

STANKY GETS TRIAL TODAY

Hughson Will Try Out His Question-Mark Hurling Arm

Bradenton, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Eddie Stanky, peddled to the Boston Braves by the Brooklyn Dodgers, is scheduled to get nto the Braves' lineup Saturday.

Manager Billy Southworth says he'll probably use Stanky in the exhibition game against Kansas City at Lake Wales.

Clyde Shoun and Dick Manville are slated to pitch today against Newark at Haines City.

Hughson's Wing

Sarasota, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Tex Hughson's question-mark pitching arm gets its first test today when the Boston Red Sox entertain the Cncnnati Reds.

Hughson will have a makeshift Sox lineup behind him. Ted Williams, Vern Stephens, Dom Di Maggio and Bobby Doerr are out with minor ailments.

Brown Hurlers Wild

San Bernardino, Calif., March 25 (AP)—Manager Zach Taylor says wildness of the pitchers is hurting the St. Louis Browns' exhibition record—seven losses and three wins.

In the last three games Brownie pitchers have walked 29 batsmen.

Nicholson's Chest

San Bernardino, Calif., March 25 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' Bill Nicholson underwent an examination for his chest injury yesterday but there was no report.

The Cubs try to get in their game with the St. Louis Browns again today. Bob Chipman, Paul Erickson and Cliff Chambers have been nominated to pitch for Chicago.

Versatile Rookie

Los Angeles, March 25 (AP)—Versatility may land Newcomer Ray Boone a position on the Cleveland Indians' roster—the 24-year-old rookie can both catch and play shortstop.

Boone prefers shortstop but wouldn't mind hanging around as a utility man, he says. So he may be kept as No. 2 shortstop and No. 3 catcher.

Rookies Please Lippy

Ciudad Trujillo, D. R., March 25 (AP)—A couple of rookie pitchers are catching the eye of Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Big Chris Van Cuyk and John Hall both looked exceptionally good in hurling the Dodgers to a 10-1 win over a mixed Montreal-Dominican team yesterday.

Van Cuyk allowed four hits and five runs in five innings. Hall pitched four scoreless, hitless frames. He walked two.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

The robins are chirping. The arbutus is trailing. Commercial fishermen are cussin' the Mackinaw for breaking up perfectly good 30-inch ice in the bay. Swimmers and small craft owners are cussin' the fishermen for leaving debris all over the bay.

* * *

The sun is shining. Jon Thorin and Red DeGraves say "When you going to come out and start flying again?" And other sure-fire signs of that blessed event, spring!

* * *

But we still can't shake our admiration for a little gang of Class D basketballers from Mass who made even the A-B-C fans and players gape with awe at the recent state high school basketball tournament in East Lansing. They won, remember? With their 47th consecutive victory.

* * *

Coach John D. Wilson loses only four of his first 10 next season, and two of the six veterans returning will be Ray Luttinen, of 35-point-per-game fame, and Jim Antilla one of the team's leading scorers. So you can look for Mass to amass more 70-point-per-game totals next season.

* * *

Prime condition has been a major factor in Mass' success. The boys work hard in and around a small agricultural and logging community as well as go to school, and some of them walk a long way to and from school. That keeps them in shape.

* * *

Dick Aho, senior guard, for instance, lives two miles from school, we are informed. Ernie Johnson, a senior, also lives two miles, and he digs graves for pocket money. Carl Wertanen, third senior regular, cuts pulp in the woods. Jim Antilla is a mechanic. Don Johnson, one of a family of 10, handles the milking and other farm chores. Several others trap for pin money.

* * *

Even Coach Wilson has a second job. You see, he's superintendent of the school as well as basketball mentor, and when he's not superintending and mentoring, he's milking his own cows.

* * *

A state championship to a team with only 46 boys to choose from in the entire school of 105 students. That's a first-rate accomplishment. So, a final tribute to little Mass. And now spring can come and take me!

Nine Titles Determined In City Ping Pong Meet

Bob Dufour, Dick Lough, Jerome Besson, Donna Blixt, Sally Stack and Deloris Groos won class championships in the annual Escanaba city ping pong tournament conducted by Art Peterson of the city recreation department at the Youth Center this week. Three doubles titles also were decided.

Dufour beat Art Peterson in a five-game finale, Peterson winning the first two, 21-16, 21-19 and Dufour coming back to cop the next three for the match and championship. The scores of the last three were 21-18, 21-17 and 21-18. Jack Finn topped Jack Schils for third place in the senior men's class.

Sally Stack was named the senior women's champion. She was the only entry.

The intermediate boys' title went to Dick Lough with a four-game triumph over Joe Sullivan in the finals, 21-16, 21-17, 16-21 and 21-19. Bill Elliott copped third place.

Deloris Groos defeated Mary Witham 21-16 and 21-18 in the intermediate girls' finale, and Jerome Besson came through to win the junior boys by tooping Duane Brown 21-14, 21-19, 21-11. Jim Heiden nosed out Rodger Horchner, 21-16, 21-19, for third place in this class.

Donna Blixt defeated Marilyn Alsten in another four-game thriller to annex the junior girls' championship. Donna won, 21-19 21-16, 19-21 and 21-14.

In the men's doubles championship event, Jack Schils and Jack Finn went four games to victory over Bob Dufour and Bill Harvey. The scores were 21-16, 21-19 16-21 and 21-19. In the boys' doubles, Jerome Besson and Jim Heiden teamed up to beat out Duane Brown and Jim Valentine, 21-14, 21-19.

Mixed doubles honors went to Jack Finn and Sally Stack, who ousted Deloris Groos and Dick Lough.

Awards in all events may be procured by the winners by calling at the Youth Center Friday.

Newberry Edges MSC Nine, 15-14

Newberry, S. C., March 25 (AP)—Michigan State's College's baseball team was still looking for the first victory of its southern tour as it tangled again with Newberry college here today.

The Michigan team was edged by Newberry, 15-14, in a wild and wooly affair yesterday, for the second loss of the Spartans' spring trip.

Pitching ineffectiveness was the answer to yesterday's defeat as five MSC pitchers were pummeled for 18 hits and 10 walks.

College Swimmers Open NCAA Tonight In Ann Arbor Pool

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 25. (AP)—Nineteen of the nation's best collegiate distance swimmers plunge into the grueling 1,500 meter free style race at the University of Michigan pool tonight to open the 25th annual N. C. A. A. swimming championships.

The 8 p. m. (EST) starting gun will touch off a duel that will probably be sharpened by the approach of the Olympic games.

Roger Watts, Iowa State's powerful tanker, looks like the man to lift the title from defending champion George Hoogerhyde of Michigan State college. But a half dozen other swimmers could upset the apple cart.

Watts proved himself more than a threat last week when he outswam Hoogerhyde in the CCC meet at MSC. The Iowa Stater churned to a 19:43.8 mark, one-tenth of a second better than Hoogerhyde's 1941 pool mark and considerably better than the CCC record of 20:10.4 set by the husky Spartan last year.

Tough opposition could be expected from Bill Smith, world's champion 440 and 880 yard free styler from Ohio State. But there is some indication he may pull out in favor of the shorter events.

And the possibility is not remote that trouble could stem from such swimmers as Matt Mann 3rd and Gus Steger, of Michigan; Ralph Sala, of Stanford; Tom Gastineau, of Indiana, and Bill Huesner, of Northwestern.

Detroit, Toronto Win Openers In Stanley Cup Hockey Series

JOE ENGLISH—The University of Florida's number three golfer isn't overlooking even body English as an aid to plunking that putt. He shouldn't. His name is Joe English.

(By The Associated Press)

The "big two" of the National Hockey League — the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Detroit Red Wings—have stepped off to a lead in the Stanley Cup playoffs, but neither found it easy.

The Maple Leafs, league champions and defending holders of the cup, were forced into an overtime period to conquer the Boston Bruins at Toronto, 5 to 4. The Wings scored early and then fought off strong New York pressure to squeeze out the Rangers at Detroit, 2 to 1.

Boston and New York will get a chance to level matters in the best-four-out-of-seven semifinals series this weekend. The Rangers will meet the Red Wings in the second game Friday, again at Detroit. The Bruins take on the Maple Leafs again Saturday at Toronto.

Metz Is Hero

A 33-year-old substitute, wheat farmer Nick Metz, was the hero of Toronto's spectacular victory over Boston.

The Leafs had staged a two-goal rally to tie the score at 4-4 at the end of the regulation period, sending the contest into the sudden-death 20-minute overtime period.

For 17 minutes the two teams battled hard for the decisive marker. Then Metz took a pass from center Max Bentley and smacked it into the nets, past Boston goalie Frankie Brimsek.

"I couldn't miss, Brimsek was out of position," Metz declared later.

Toronto and Boston were tied after each period, 1-1, 2-2 and 4-4. Boston led 4-2 in the final period before Toronto rallied.

Near Gang Fight

Detroit, runner-up behind Toronto in the regular season which ended last Sunday, punched in two big goals in the opening period last night and hung on to top the fourth place Rangers by staving off a third period counter-attack.

A disappointing crowd of 12,249 fans, which fell short of Olympia Stadium's seating capacity for one of the few times this year, got plenty of action for its money in the narrow Red Wing squeak.

A near gang-fight late in the opening period put four players—two from each club—in the penalty box for a combined total of 16 minutes, and three of them. Bill Juzda and Tony Leswick of the Rangers and Sid Abel of Detroit, were still sitting in the box when the Red Wings counted the goal that decided the issue.

Jimmy Conacher grabbed the puck back of the net and sprinted the length of the ice to hammer it past Ranger goalie Chuck Rayner with only 53 seconds of playing time left in the opening stanza.

That hoisted the Detroit edge to 2-0, coming as it did four minutes after Ted Lindsay had banged in a back-hand rebound shot, and the Rangers couldn't catch up.

John Groth Sparkles Afield For Tigers, But Can He Hit???

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25. (AP)—The old Detroit Tiger story of good pitching and poor hitting has a new twist today.

Its main character is a 21-year-old rookie with the legs of an antelope, a powerful throwing arm and the fielding instinct of a veteran.

His name is John Groth, and yesterday at Lakeland the young center-fielder from Chicago put on an exhibition guaranteed to delight—and also to trouble—the top Tiger strategists.

In the sixth and again in the eighth inning of the Tigers' 3-1 conquest of the Boston Red Sox, Groth turning in sprinting, game-saving catches that cut off at least four runs.

The first time, with two on and two out, Groth raced far into right field to grab a liner from the bat of George Wilson and pull Tiger pitcher Virgil Trucks out of a hole.

Two innings later, again with two on and two out, Groth ran back 40 yards to rob rookie Al Simononis of a sure hit.

With such feats, Groth posed a problem for Steve O'Neill and associates. He showed that he can field with the best of them. But can he hit?

MSC NETTERS TRAIL

Williamsburg, Va., March 25 (AP)—Michigan State College's touring tennis team trailed by a 4-1 margin today as it resumed its interrupted match with William and Mary college. The Southern netmen, seeking their 42nd consecutive win, stroked out the commanding lead over the Michigan visitors yesterday.

American Leads

American league teams have won 10 all-star games to 4 won by the National league.

Many Celebrities To Roll In ABC

Detroit, March 25 (AP)—During the lull that regularly accompanies booster teams' competition in the American Bowling Congress tournament, ABC officials looked over the meet's long list of entries today.

They pointed out that the tournament as usual will draw bowlers from all professions, and will number among its contestants several film stars, baseball greats and government officials.

Included among the ABC members who compete annually are Motion Picture Comedian and Director Harold Lloyd, whose pin average is 185, and Star Joe E. Brown who once fired a 300 game.

Everett (Deacon) Scott, baseball oldtimer whose record for consecutive games played was broken only by Lou Gehrig, competes with a Fort Wayne, Ind., team. Other diamond stars listed for the ABC meet are ex-third-baseman Jimmy Dykes, Jimmy Archer, former catcher for the Chicago Cubs, and Ray Schalk, one time receiver for the Chicago White Sox.

Detroit's ex-mayor Edward J. Jeffries has competed in the team division.

Until Friday night, when regular squads again take over the alleys, the current tournament leaders are expected to hold their positions.

Lombardo to Try For Speed Record

Miami Beach, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Orchestra leader Guy Lombardo planned to try again today to break the U. S. unlimited hydroplane speed record set by Gar Wood of Detroit nearly 16 years ago.

Choppy water halted Lombardo's attempts yesterday after he had set a new gold cup powerboat record.

Lombardo's 113.208 miles per hour over the measured mile on Indiana Creek broke the old record of 100.987 miles per hour set by Herbert Mendelson of Detroit in 1940. It was considerably less, however, than Wood's record of 124.915 miles an hour for the unlimited class, set Sept. 20, 1932.

The Negaunee-Niagara game is to break the tie for fourth place. Negaunee prviously had tipped Iron River, 43-40, to break part of the three-way tie.

Stambaugh and Hermansville will tangle this week to break the second and third place tie, and then they will meet again at Hermansville in the second official championship playoff game. The final playoffs will be best two-out-of-three.

Albion Wins 7th MIAA Track Title At East Lansing

East Lansing, March 25 (AP)—Albion college piled up 74½ points to take its seventh MIAA indoor track championship in eight starts at Michigan State College's Jenison fieldhouse last night.

Hillsdale placed second with 40 points, Alma was third with 25 points, Hope fourth with 22 points, Adrian fifth with 18½ points and Kalamazoo fifth with 15 points.

The Britons, coached by Dean Rockwell, have the only regular track team in the league.

Three meet records were broken during the evening.

Arlan Edgar, Alma pole vaulter, was the star of the meet as he set a new meet record of 12 feet 5-8 of an inch. The old mark of 11 feet 5 3-4 inches was set in 1942.

In the shotput John Haas, of Albion, registered a toss of 42 feet 7¼ inches. The old distance was 41 feet 11 inches.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to our relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindnesses shown us in our recent sad bereavement, the sudden death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Plourde. We are very grateful to Rev. Fr. Dion for his comforting words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, sent spiritual bouquets, offered the use of their cars and to all those who in any way helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.
Signed:
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lantagne and Family.
